

UPCOMING ELECTION

A Bill to amend the Local Government Act 1995 has recently been introduced into Parliament. One of the amendments is to decree the reduction in Councillor numbers, where local governments with a population of up to 5000 will have between 5 & 7 Councillors (including the president). The Shire of Williams currently has 9 Councillors.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

In the upcoming election, all 9 council positions will be declared vacant and 7 councillors will be elected.

*If you have ever thought of running for Council,
Now is the time.*

In October, there will be 7 vacancies for Council

WHAT IS THE ROLE OF A COUNCILLOR ?

Councillors represent their local community's needs, wants and aspirations, making important decisions on behalf of their local community.
